HUGE GIFT RECEIVED BY HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN FUND

NAME OF DONOR WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

SPEAKERS WILL OUTLINE DETAILS OF CAMPAIGN AND COMMUNITY INTEREST WILL RUN HIGH

LET EVERYBODY DO THEIR SHARE

As the heads of the great movement that is now stirring Clearfield to its very depths, the $200,000 Hospital Campaign Fund, were going over their mail last night the chap who was opening the mail read one of the letters, read the slip of paper accompanying it, looked again, rubbed his eyes and then looked again.

Yes, it was true. His eyes did not deceive him. There were the figures. There was the letter. The name signed to the letter was one that is well known in the county. It was a name that has been connected with more than one great philanthropic movement in this county. It was a name that made the size of the donation far beyond the possibility of a practical joke.

After consulting the other members of the committee present, the committeeman felt like just standing there and whooping for all he was worth but he's a devout man and we're sure that he offered up just a bit of silent prayer asking the blessing of the Great Healer on this more than liberal citizen of our county who, by his generosity, has made it possible to bring to Clearfield the means of healing the sick, caring for the maimed, and carrying on a work that has no peer in the entire category of merciful actions.

But to hark back to the opening of the letter. Who was it that started this great movement with such a great shove?

Who was the man who thought of the great movement with all its possibilities for bringing healing and contentment to Clearfield County's sick and maimed?

What was the amount of the gift?

Ah—there's the secret! But it will be a secret only for a few hours longer for this man said in his letter that his name might be used publicly.

Now folks, there's only one way for you to get this wonderful news and that's to come to the High School Auditorium tonight and hear the great news along with some other surprises that will really make you believe that God's in His Heaven and all's well with the world.

WAGE REDUCTION FOR WEAVERS

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I. October 8—An immediate reduction of 15 per cent. in wages of 300 weavers of the Pennsylvania Textile company was announced by officials of the company here today.

NOVEMBER 14th WILL BE ARMISTICE DAY

WASHINGTON, October 8—President Wilson today named Sunday, November 14, as Armistice Day to be observed as memorial day to the Americans who lost their lives in the world war.

POPULAR COUPLE OF CLEARFIELD WED AT NORTHUMBERLAND

Two of Clearfield's most popular and accomplished young people were united in marriage yesterday morning at Northumberland, Pa., by their former pastor, Rev. Dr. H. R. Bence of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Howard Stewart and Miss Catherine Dumlake were the principals in this culmination of the work of the love god Cupid.

Miss Dumlake is the daughter of Senator and Mrs. George M. Dumlake, a graduate of Bryn Mawr college and a most talented and charming young lady having all the grace and charm that go to make the ideal helpmate in the great future that beckons to young people.

and threw his unlimited energy and stamina into the work of his choosing. He is identified with several fraternalities and enjoys acquaintance with a wide circle of friends who wish for himself and bride a lifetime of happiness.

The young people met at Northumberland yesterday and Rev. Bence performed the ceremony at his residence after which they left for a short tour of eastern cities. On their return they will occupy a home on Whitmer street in Clearfield which is all ready for their occupancy.

The Progress extends heartiest congratulations, and best wishes.

HARDING FLATLY REJECTS WILSON LEAGUE WANTS REJECTION, NOT RESERVATIONS

Our Responsibilities All too Plain; Need No Clarifying. He Tells Big Audiences 'I FAVOR STAYING OUT'-HARDING

Enroute with Senator Harding to Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 8—With the League of Nations becoming more apparently the paramount issue, Senator Warren G. Harding went into Missouri today. He was scheduled to make an address at St. Joseph, Mo., this morning and expected to reiterate his stand taken yesterday in Omaha, Nebraska, on the league.

Harding came out flat-footed against it as it stands. Harding is believed to be prepared to carry the fight into his rival camp in an effort to get the offensive before the Democrats get under way.

Harding stirred a big Omaha, Nebraska, audience last night when he announced he was opposed to the covenant as it stands. That is now in complete accord with Senator Borah.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—Senator Harding utterly repudiating the League of Nations is "a great German victory," Joseph P. Tumulty, Secretary to President Wilson said today. "Senator Harding has gone completely over to the irreconcilables," Tumulty added. "He has chucked all of the others who have a different view." Secretary Tumulty said there was great interest in how Former President Taft, Attorney General Wickersham, and other prominent Republicans will view Senator Harding's position. It was intimated at the White House that Harding's statement may be made the occasion for another campaign document by President Wilson. Tumulty and Wilson conferred on the question today.

The developments of the last twenty-four hours promise to enliven the national political situation to the heating point. The speech made by Senator Harding yesterday in which he came out emphatically on many points of interest puts him on the offensive in many respects. Once again he spoke on the Esch-Cummins railroad law and in a straight forward manner spoke his convictions on this much mooted subject. He said:

"It was a new declaration of legislative justice, a new bill of rights for American labor, a declaration against the blighting hand of government operation, a new pledge of fair dealing with railway owners, and a new command of the government to American railways to serve the American people."

It was in his reference to the Wilson league plan that Mr. Harding threw the bombshell into the camp of the Democratic party. Harding plainly stated he favored staying out and thus put upon the shoulders of the Democratic candidate the responsibility of defending the European alliance. In part he said:

"I want it known I shall be a jealous of the executive's rights as I have been jealous of the rights of the Senate, because we need a new baptism of constitutionalism in the republic. The constitution is the rock on which we build; it is the foundation on which the republic will endure. Lays 'Scrapping' to Wilson.

Our opponents are persistently curious to know whether, if—or perhaps I might better say when—I am elected, I intend to 'scrap' the league. It might be sufficient in reply to suggest the futility of 'scrapping' something which is already 'scrapped.' Whether President Wilson is to be blamed or thanked for the result, the fact remains that the Paris league has been 'scrapped' by the hand of its chief architect. The stubborn insistence that it must be ratified without dotting an 'i' or crossing a 't', the refusal to advise—that is, to counsel with the Senate in accordance with the mandate of the Constitution, is wholly responsible for that condition.

The issue, which our opponents are endeavoring to befog, is singularly simple and direct. That issue, so made by the Democratic president and the Democratic platform and the Democratic candidate does not present to the American people the question whether they shall favor some form of association for the purpose of preserving international peace, but whether they favor the particular league proposed by President Wilson.

Democrats for League Only The Democratic platform and candidate have not declared for 'staying out' but for 'staying in' and it is that association and not some other when we are promised we are asked within 60 days if the Democratic candidate is elected.

The platform, to be sure, approaches its endorsement with winding words and sly qualifications, calculated to betray the innocent and entrap the unwary; but, it does, nevertheless, endorse the league as it stands. It does not advocate or favor any reservations or amendments or changes or qualifications. It goes no further than to suggest that reservations will not be opposed which make clearer of more specific obligations of the United States to the league.

But there is no need for reservations of this character. The obligations are clear enough and specific enough. I oppose the proposed league, not because I fail to understand what a former member of the Democratic administration has said "We are being let in for," but because I believe I understand precisely what we are being let in for. I do not want to clarify these obligations; I want to turn my back upon them.

Declares for Rejection. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking.

The Democratic candidate in his speech of acceptance has said, "a definite plan has been agreed upon. The League of Nations is in operation. Senator Harding as the Republican candidate for the presidency, proposed in plain words that we remain out of it. A Democratic candidate, I favor going in." The issue, therefore, is clear.

I understand the position of the Democratic candidate and he understands me, as his own words, just now uttered, plainly show, notwithstanding the recent pretense that my position was not been made clear. The simple words, it is, that he favors going into the Paris league and I favor staying out.

SEE VICTORY FOR WAGON LOADERS IN NEW DECISION

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 8.—The Public Service Commission has rescinded its order of March 20, 1917, which directed the Pennsylvania Railroad to furnish open top cars to wagon loading bituminous coal operators and ordered the railroad company to adopt rules in accordance with the order for distribution of coal cars approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Commission's action followed hearings on the temporary rescinding order, which was vigorously protested by the wagon loaders associations from all bituminous sections. The Pennsylvania railroad in asking for revocation of the old order alleged that furnishing of coal cars to wagon loaders on private or public sidings was an economic waste of motive power, tied up traffic and prevented maximum coal distribution. They asked that they be compelled to furnish cars only to tipple loading operators.

Wagon Loaders Protest. The wagon loaders protested that many of them could load cars within 24 hours and as advantageously and had larger outputs than some mines equipped with tipples.

The wagon loaders asked that the commission compel the coal carriers in Pennsylvania to carry out the rule of the I. C. C. which they claimed forced open top cars to all operators who could load within 24 hours. Railroad officials said they had not so interpreted the I. C. C. order which was issued September 16.

Gives P. R. S. Full Sway. In the order the Commission stated: "We are decidedly of the opinion that the practice of loading coal in top cars where the shippers have no tipple or other loading device is a wasteful use of the equipment and results in delays which should not be permitted under existing circumstances. Anything which delays the movement of coal cars and thereby reduces the production and distribution of coal should be discontinued in the interest of the public as a whole and we feel entirely justified in saying that the regulation of carriers which in ordinary times might amount to a unjust discrimination when their purpose and results is to promote the public welfare by using the equipment of carriers in the most efficient manner possible."

The order leaves the interpretation of the I. C. C. order solely in the hands of the railroad company.

RED AND BLACK IS FULLY PREPARED FOR HUNTINGDON

By DICK LEIPER. Yesterday afternoon Coach Leiser put the C. H. S. sq. thru their final scrimmage prior to their departure for Huntingdon where they will go with grim determination to do honor to the Red and Black by wresting the "bacon" from the boys of the reformatory town.

The squad was put thru the most grueling workout of the season. A tho the varsity carried the ball across the scrubs' goal line several times they had to fight hard as the second team put up real football; forcing the varsity to punt and several occasions breaking thru the varsity and downing the regulars for a loss. The scrubs again made a well earned touchdown, advancing the ball by a variety of plays, pulling passes, and runs in a manner that would reflect credit on the average high school team, and finally putting the ball across on a line buck.

Both the varsity and scrubs used the forward pass in all its variations and now that end of the game is well groomed; the players being equally as adept in breaking up passes, and as Huntingdon is reported to play a passing game, C. H. S. will be well prepared for their "aerial" attacks.

The Marblers will do their best to stop the Red and Black eleven as they are eager to make up for the defeats that C. H. S. has inflicted on them in the past, and also Clearfield's team is a veteran aggregation. Huntingdon will endeavor to overcome this obstacle by "uncorking" some new trick plays, but as C. H. S. has been drilled to combat such tactics, our team should analyze opponents' form of attack in der.

The varsity was given a signal practice and a talk by Coach Leiser and will leave tomorrow morning on the P. R. R. at 8:15 for Huntingdon, confident and determined that when the "smoke clears" C. H. S. will have another clean cut victory to their credit.

WHY MASS MEETING IS CALLED TONIGHT FULLY EXPLAINED

"Mass. 1. A quantity of matter cohering in one body, usually of considerable size. 2. A large quantity amount or number; a bulk. 3. Bulky, size. 4. The mass body; as, the mass of men. Mass emphasizes the idea of solidity and coherence."

So wrote Mr. Webster in his best seller. Unconsciously, but accurately, he was describing the nature of the meeting to be held in the High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight to mark the formal opening of the campaign for a $200,000 maintenance, endowment, and building fund for the new Clearfield General Hospital. It's to be a mass meeting.

"We're calling it a mass meeting," said one of the campaigners this afternoon, "because we feel sure that all Clearfield will indicate, by its attendance at the meeting tonight, that it is wholly and coherently back of only wide campaign to provide and extend the entire re- with the hospital service. Certainly with the immediate vicinity must put it if we expect the good people around the country to do so. We want everybody and his brother to turn out tonight. It's going to be a rousing meeting. Tell the people to come."

FARM AGENT TALKS ON WOOL SITUATION

There has been practically no situation of the last six months. On Sept. 1 the American Woolen Co. who have followed closely look for a large amount of wool clip has been consigned either to Philadelphia or Boston and still lays in the warehouse unsold. The fleece wool states are holding for a more staple market. There is a feeling in the trade, however, that as soon as the spring orders are placed it will be the null men a more definite demand of wool will be in demand.

The amount of summer wools sold in the markets here, the agents generally agreed that the wool will be forced to sell at a price lower than was expected by you. There is a feeling in the trade that the three-fourths wools are somewhat in demand for spring orders.

The demand for and the scarcity of fine wool will have a tendency to make them more attractive in the eyes of the trade than the coarser wools. So far as saying what wools are worth today there seems to be no basis for value. Very few wools are being moved and what little is bought is the local men is only the price on a speculative basis, because nobody seems to know what the price should be.

A soon as there is any change in the market, in other words, as soon as we have a definite basis for value, you will hear from us again. W. C. STERRETT, County Farm Agent.

About the only thing that will get an underhold on the presidency this year will be votes, and it will take a lot of them.

So far as the league is concerned Cox favors going in while Harding has positively stated he favors staying out. Cox is not consistent on this in and out business. When it comes to being damp Mr. Cox favors staying out in the "wet."

THE STATUS OF THE WAGON LOADER

The multiplying orders of the P. S. C. and the I. C. C. on wagon coal loading are about as clear to the average operator as the league of nations is to the ordinary individual and we belong in the latter class. However, the legal lights tell us that the wagon loaders have won a victory; that they will be accorded the privilege of loading open top cars provided they meet with whatever reasonable regulations are prescribed by the railroad company. It now appears that the railroad companies must deliver to wagon loading mines their pro rata share of cars with the tippie mines and that about the only reasonable restriction will be the rule as to twenty-four hour loading.

NOW, LET US GO!

A $? ? ? gift to the Hospital Campaign is some start and if, after this wonderful testimonial to the hospital by one of the citizens of the county, the rest of us fail to fall in line with our mite, then there is something wrong with us as a community.

But we fear no such result. The immense gift is evidence to us that the hospital campaign arguments are striking deep in the hearts of our citizens. It is the first fruit of the four weeks preparation and the size of it is a good indication of what the whole crop will be. There will be other gifts of large figures, some even larger, but no man or woman in the county should be content to let the campaign go by without contributing their share. Let us all have a part in this, the greatest peace time undertaking of the people of the county.

Now, let us go!—to the mass meeting tonight.

CHANCES

Uncle Sam has 2,973,774 square miles of dry land, enough to give every inhabitant 180 acres. Grant that three-quarters of it isn't first class. That would still leave forty-five acres apiece, and a good intensive tiller of soil can live comfortably on ten acres.

This isn't an appeal for a division of land, as in Russia. It is the prelude to a story.

Ten years ago a Russian immigrant landed in Northwestern Nebraska without a cent. He worked for wages until he had saved $120. Then he leased a farm and started raising pigs. The town banker today rates him as worth $150,000—all of it fairly earned.

The West is full of such instances. The South soon will be. Ours is still the land of opportunity for those willing and able to work, think, save and dare.

Concerning Investments

America has become a nation of investors, and we make the following suggestion to those who may be contemplating making an investment in stocks or bonds.

Be sure that values of the securities you have in mind have tangible intrinsic worth, convertible into cash if needs be. Good management and "good will" are much to be desired, but always remember that they are personal equations which can crumble overnight in incompetent hands.

Our services are at your command in the selection of your investments.

Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago and never contained alcohol.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

At this time of the year some people feel "all out of sorts"—their vitality is at a low ebb—the blood becomes surcharged with poisons! The best blood medicine and tonic is called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts vim, vigor, vitality into the blood. Try it. This is what folks say about it:

HARRISBURG, PA.—"I used to suffer with bilious attacks, my liver being inactive. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it rid me of these spells and I have never had any return of them. 'Golden Medical Discovery' is an excellent liver medicine; it is also good as a tonic to build up the system. And Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative or cathartic I have taken; they act on the liver and drive out all poisonous conditions of the system, and are very mild."—Mrs. J. H. What Shall We Do With Our Apples?

National Crop Improvement Service.
IT'S a perfect shame to see the beautiful apple crop of the United States being at least one-half wasted.

The distribution of perishables is our greatest agricultural problem. Millions of hungry people would be glad to buy the surplus of fruits and vegetables if some plan could be devised to bring it to market at prices which they could afford to pay.

We cannot even make our windfalls into cider according to the rulings of the federal authorities, unless we obligate ourselves to wait until the cider has turned to vinegar. Cider has the power, and exercises it, of generating more alcohol than the law allows. A farmer can sell sweet cider containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol but unless he drugs it, his cider will not behave. The farmer don't like it either.

There are enough apples lying on the ground in Michigan or in Indiana, New York or any other state, to supply the world with vinegar for a hundred years and vinegar would be so cheap that it would not pay to buy containers.

In some localities where barrels and baskets are high and fruit is plentiful, local jam factories are being established, but even this will not prove to be the way out because for the greater portion of the year there will be no apples or other fruit and the plant will have to lie idle.

Apples in the cities are selling as high as five to seven dollars per bushel and yet there will be thousands of apple trees bearing beautiful fruit which will never be picked.

This is a problem for all farm bureaus.

What shall we do to prevent this waste in perishables?

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY

HARRY H. ROSENTHAL, O. D.,
WOOLLEDGE BUILDING, CLEAR-
FIELD, PA.

LESSON THREE

Of what does an Optometrist's services consist?

Determining the nature and extent of the optical defects that a patient suffers from, as before explained.

Anything else?
Yes, it is also an Optician, he prepares the lenses and sees that they are properly adjusted to the features of the patient.

Are most Optometrists also Opticians?

Yes, practically all of them.

What are some of the commonest defects of vision?

Far and near sight and astigmatism are three that are frequently met with.

Do these defects cause much annoyance to those who have them?

The results of errors of vision vary with different people.

Then astigmatic folks for instance, do not all suffer to the same extent?

No, the degree of the error and the health and temperament of the patient are factors in this respect.

Further explanation in our next lesson.

Keeping Faith

THE cars are coming! From now on travelers will notice a gradual transformation in the long trains which recently have been breaking all tonnage records. They will see an ever-increasing number of bright spots—here and there snow-white refrigerators, glossy-black hopper and gondola coal cars, and glistening-red all-steel box cars.

Already the first section of the new equipment ordered by the New York Central Lines immediately following the termination of Federal control has been received from the shops and has gone into the Nation's transportation service. The balance will be delivered continuously and in increasing volume.

These cars come with the advent of the busiest of fall and winter seasons, at a time when they are needed as never before.

WHEN the Government turned the railroads back to their owners, experts computed that approximately $500,000,000 worth of new equipment was the imperative need of the hour. The New York Central Lines immediately placed their $53,000,000 equipment order, covering 196 locomotives, 265 passenger cars and 11,244 freight cars.

These freight cars, if coupled together, would make a solid train ninety miles long. But measured by the total number of efficient cars added to active service, the repair program of the New York Central Lines this year amounts to several times the new construction.

Crippled freight cars to the number of 59,196 were rebuilt and rendered 100 percent. serviceable up to September 1st. During the same period, "medium" repairs were made to 41,222 additional damaged freight cars.

LAST March assurances were given the shippers and the public generally that no time would be lost in meeting the needs of the service, in rehabilitating existing equipment and purchasing new rolling stock.

tie of Tanlac and have actually gained twenty-three pounds," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. Clara Lehman, residing at the Bristol Hotel, Rochester N. Y., a few days ago.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good Tanlac has done me," she continued. "I had been in very poor health for a bout ten years and in spite of all I could do I kept getting weaker until three years ago I suffered a complete nervous breakdown."

"I could hardly sleep at night, woke up at all hours, with a horrible nightmare—and scarcely had a minute's ease or comfort at any time. I had no appetite and have passed many a day without eating or drinking anything except now and then a cup of coffee, and I became so weak I would sometimes tremble like a leaf. I suffered terribly from heartburn and there was an empty, faint feeling in the pit of my stomach."

"Last September I was taken with bronchial pneumonia and after spending four weeks in a hospital I came home so weak I could hardly stand up and with my old trouble worse than

The hostess suggested that we each tell a funny story. When my turn came I was laughing so hard over the joke I wanted to tell that I could scarcely speak. Every one was anxious to hear it, and at last when I had controlled my laughter I began. No one even smiled when I finished. I was the only one who thought the story funny.—Exchange.

ever. Many a morning I would get out of bed and would fall right back from weakness.

"Three years ago I weighed one hundred and thirty-nine pounds and I fell off until I weighed only eighty-five pounds. Since taking Tanlac I now balance the scales at one hundred and eight pounds and am still gaining weight and strength every day. The bronchial pneumonia left me with an awful cough, which was so violent at times as to almost prostrate me."

"One day I was visiting a friend who advised me to try Tanlac. Acting on her advice, I began taking Tanlac and I commenced to feel better so quickly that it surprised me. My appetite is just fine now and that burning sensation and faint feeling has left me. In fact, all my stomach distress is gone, my nerves have been wonderfully improved and I don't have that tired, worn out feeling any more. I have been strengthened and built up until I am feeling better than I have in years."

Tanlac is sold by all leading druggists.

A WOMAN'S SOUL BARED

Mrs. Asquith, Wife of Former British Premier, Tells Tales Out of School

When William Watson, the famed poet wrote "The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue," it was Margot Tennant Asquith he wrote about. As wife of the then Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mrs. Asquith acquired a knowledge of men and things that was denied to other women. Her "petticoat government" forced a crisis in the British navy, and she was the "power-behind-the-throne" in many other instances.

Now Mrs. Asquith has arrived at the conclusion that she is and has been a much-misunderstood woman. Happily, during her entire public career (and it was a public career) she kept a diary. Recently she concluded to give the contents of that diary to the public. England already has read what she had to say. Pittsburgh is to be next. The Pittsburgh Dispatch has arranged for the entire diary and beginning next Sunday, October 10, there will appear for 14 consecutive weeks a liberal installment of all the things Mrs. Asquith wrote.

Contained in this diary are matters of state, love, intrigue and common politics. The writer, whose pen might best be described as "vitrified" spares no one. She knew well Gladstone, Edward VII, Roseberry, Balfour, Randolph, Churchill, Kitchener, Lord Roberts and a host of other world famous figures. And she knows whereof she writes.

No matter whether you are of British origin or not, you will be interested. This being the case it is best to "play safe" and order your copy of next Sunday's Dispatch in advance. (Adv.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 10

BAPTISM AND TEMPTATION OF JESUS.

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 3:1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.—Matt. 3:17. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 3:1-17, Heb. 2:18, 4:15. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Pleasing the Heavenly Father. JUNIOR TOPIC—Baptism and Temptation of Jesus. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Overcoming Temptation. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Victory Over Appetite, Pride and Ambition.

I. The Baptism of Jesus (3:13-17). While the forerunner was discharging his office, the King emerged from his seclusion at Nazareth and demanded baptism at John's hands. The incongruity of this with the purpose of baptism brought from John a protest, but Jesus' explanation was satisfactory, so John baptized him. Touching Christ's baptism, note:

1. Its significance. (1) Negatively. It did not mean his own obedience to the commandment of God, because his entire life had been lived entirely within the will of God. Not a moment in his entire life but what was lived entirely in accordance with the Father's will. (2) Not because he had sin, for he was absolutely sinless, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners. This separation was so complete that even the devil could find no occasion against him (John 14:30). (3) Positively. Its significance is found in harmony with the central purpose of his coming into the world, which was to secure for his people salvation through death, burial and resurrection.

2. Approval from the opened heavens (vv. 16, 17). Immediately following his consecration to his work, the heavens were opened and the Spirit came and abode upon him, followed by words of approval from the Father. These all were essential for the work upon which Christ now entered—revelation (heavens opened), inspiration (dove abode upon him), and approval (words from the Father).

II. The Temptation of Jesus (4:1-11). This temptation was the opening battle of the dreadful conflict between Christ and Satan. In this struggle, note:

1. The combatants. (1) Jesus Christ, the Divine Man, now entering upon his mediatorial work. He went immediately from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet the arch-enemy of the race. (2) The devil. He was a real person filled with cunning and malice.

2. The battle ground—the Wilderness of Judea. The first man was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings and failed, the second man was tempted in a bare wilderness and gloriously triumphed.

3. The method of attack. Since as our Redeemer Christ sustains a threefold relationship, Son of Man, Son of God and as Messiah, each one was made a ground of attack. (1) As Son of Man. This was a test of the reality of his humanity which he obtained through the Virgin birth was real. The appeal was made to the instinct of hunger. Hunger is natural and sinless. Having been forty days and nights without food, as a normal man, Christ had a craving appetite. While the appetite was not sinful, to have satisfied it in a wrong way would have been sin. (2) Son of God. It was to test as to whether this personality which had taken upon itself humanity, was divine. The devil quoted from a Messianic Psalm to get him to presume upon God's care. God does care for his own, but to neglect common precaution—to do the untried for thing just to put God's promise to a test is to sin and fail. (3) As Messiah. Christ's mission as Messiah was to recover this world from the devil. Now the devil offers to surrender to him on the simple condition that he adopt his method, thus obviating the necessity of the cross. The kingdoms were really Christ's, and he knew that they would ultimately become his. The inducement was to get immediate possession without the sufferings of the cross.

4. The defense—the Word of God. Christ met the enemy each time and repulsed him with "It is written." Each time he quoted from Deuteronomy, the book which the higher critics would discredit as reliable.

5. The issue—the enemy is completely routed.

There is nothing so effective as gaso-line to clean porcelain tubs and wash basins. A dry rag dipped in gasoline, then rubbed on the surface, will remove practically any discoloration or stain. Pagoda a Place of Worship.

A pagoda is a Hindu place of worship, containing an idol. It consists of three portions—an apartment surmounted by a dome, resting on columns, and accessible to all; a chamber into which only Brahmans are allowed to enter, and, lastly, a cell containing the statue of the deity, closed by massive gates. The most remarkable pagodas are those of Benares, Simla, Pagan and particularly that of Jagernaut in Orissa.

HUGE GIFT RECEIVED BY HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN FUND

NAME OF DONOR WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT MEETING TO BE HELD TONIGHT

SPEAKERS WILL OUTLINE DETAILS OF CAMPAIGN AND COMMUNITY INTEREST WILL RUN HIGH

LET EVERYBODY DO THEIR SHARE

As the heads of the great movement that is now stirring Clearfield to its very depths, the $200,000 Hospital Campaign Fund, were going over their mail last night the chap who was opening the mail read one of the letters, read the slip of paper accompanying it, looked again, rubbed his eyes and then looked again.

Yes, it was true. His eyes did not deceive him. There were the figures. There was the letter. The name signed to the letter was one that is well known in the county. It was a name that has been connected with more than one great philanthropic movement in this county. It was a name that made the size of the donation far beyond the possibility of a practical joke.

After consulting the other members of the committee present, the committeeman felt like just standing there and whooping for all he was worth but he's a devout man and we're sure that he offered up just a bit of silent prayer asking the blessing of the Great Healer on this more than liberal citizen of our county who, by his generosity, has made it possible to bring to Clearfield the means of healing the sick, caring for the maimed, and carrying on a work that has no peer in the entire category of merciful actions.

But to hark back to the opening of the letter. Who was it that started this great movement with such a great shove?

Who was the man who thought of the great movement with all its possibilities for bringing healing and contentment to Clearfield County's sick and maimed?

What was the amount of the gift?

Ah—there's the secret! But it will be a secret only for a few hours longer for this man said in his letter that his name might be used publicly.

Now folks, there's only one way for you to get this wonderful news and that's to come to the High School Auditorium tonight and hear the great news along with some other surprises that will really make you believe that God's in His Heaven and all's well with the world.

NOVEMBER 14th WILL BE ARMISTICE DAY

WASHINGTON, October 8—President Wilson today named Sunday, November 14, as Armistice Day to be observed as memorial day to the Americans who lost their lives in the world war.

POPULAR COUPLE OF CLEARFIELD WED AT NORTHUMBERLAND

Two of Clearfield's most popular and accomplished young people were united in marriage yesterday morning at Northumberland, Pa., by their former pastor, Rev. Dr. H. R. Bence of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Howard Stewart and Miss Catherine Dineeling were the principals in this culmination of the work of the love god Cupid.

Miss Dineeling is the daughter of Senator and Mrs. George M. Dineeling, a graduate of Bryn Mawr college and a most talented and charming young lady having all the grace and charm that go to make the ideal helpmate in the great future that beckons to young people.

and threw his unlimited energy and stamina into the work of his choosing. He is identified with several fraternities and enjoys acquaintance with a wide circle of friends who wish for himself and bride a lifetime of happiness.

The young people met at Northumberland yesterday and Rev. Bence performed the ceremony at his residence after which they left for a short tour of eastern cities. On their return they will occupy a home on Whitmer street in Clearfield which is all ready for their occupancy.

The Progress extends heartiest congratulations, and best wishes.

Our Responsibilities All too Plain; Need No Clarifying. He Tells Big Audiences 'I FAVOR STAYING OUT'-HARDING

Enroute with Senator Harding to Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 8—With the League of Nations becoming more apparently the paramount issue, Senator Warren G. Harding went into Missouri today. He was scheduled to make an address at St. Joseph, Mo., this morning and expected to reiterate his stand taken yesterday in Omaha, Nebraska, on the league.

Harding came out flat-footed against it as it stands. Harding is believed to be prepared to carry the fight into his rival camp in an effort to get the offensive before the Democrats get under way.

Harding stirred a big Omaha, Nebraska, audience last night when he announced he was opposed to the covenant as it stands. That is now in complete accord with Senator Borah.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—Senator Harding utterly repudiating the League of Nations is "a great German victory," Joseph P. Tumulty, Secretary to President Wilson said today. "Senator Harding has gone completely over to the irreconcilables," Tumulty added. "He has chucked all of the others who have a different view." Secretary Tumulty said there was great interest in how Former President Taft, Attorney General Wickersham, and other prominent Republicans will view Senator Harding's position. It was intimated at the White House that Harding's statement may be made the occasion for another campaign document by President Wilson. Tumulty and Wilson conferred on the question today.

The developments of the last twenty-four hours promise to enliven the national political situation to the heating point. The speech made by Senator Harding yesterday in which he came out emphatically on many points of interest puts him on the offensive in many respects. Once again he spoke on the Esch-Cummins railroad law and in a straight forward manner spoke his convictions on this much mooted subject. He said:

"It was a new declaration of legislative justice, a new bill of rights for American labor, a declaration against the blighting hand of government operation, a new pledge of fair dealing with railway owners, and a new command of the government to American railways to serve the American people."

It was in his reference to the Wilson league plan that Mr. Harding threw the bombshell into the camp of the Democratic party. Harding plainly stated he favored staying out and thus put upon the shoulders of the Democratic candidate the responsibility of defending the European alliance. In part he said:

"I want it known I shall be a jealous of the executive's rights as I have been jealous of the rights of the Senate, because we need a new baptism of constitutionalism in the republic. The constitution is the rock on which we build; it is the foundation on which the republic will endure. Lays 'Scrapping' to Wilson.

Our opponents are persistently curious to know whether, if—or perhaps I might better say when—I am elected, I intend to 'scrap' the league. It might be sufficient in reply to suggest the futility of 'scrapping' something which is already 'scrapped.'

Whether President Wilson is to be blamed or thanked for the result, the fact remains that the Paris league has been 'scrapped' by the hand of its chief architect. The stubborn insistence that it must be ratified without dotting an 'i' or crossing a 't', the refusal to advise—that is, to counsel with the Senate in accordance with the mandate of the Constitution, is wholly responsible for that condition.

The issue, which our opponents are endeavoring to befog, is singularly simple and direct. That issue, so made by the Democratic president and the Democratic platform and the Democratic candidate does not present to the American people the question whether they shall favor some form of association for the purpose of preserving international peace, but whether they favor the particular league proposed by President Wilson.

Democrats for League Only

The Democratic platform and candidate have not declared for 'staying out' but for 'staying in' and it is that association and not some other when we are promised to be carried within 60 days if the Democratic candidate is elected.

The platform, to be sure, approaches its endorsement with winding words and sly qualifications, calculated to betray the innocent and entrap the unwary; but, it does, nevertheless, endorse the league as it stands. It does not advocate or favor any reservations or amendments or changes or qualifications. It goes no further than to suggest that reservations will not be opposed which make clearer of more specific obligations of the United States to the league.

But there is no need for reservations of this character. The obligations are clear enough and specific enough. I oppose the proposed league, not because I fail to understand what a former member of the Democratic administration has said "We are being let in for," but because I believe I understand precisely what we are being let in for. I do not want to clarify these obligations; I want to turn my back upon them.

It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking.

The Democratic candidate in his speech of acceptance has said, "a definite plan has been agreed upon. The League of Nations is in operation. Senator Harding as the Republican candidate for the presidency, proposed in plain words that we remain out of it. A- the Democratic candidate, I, therefore, favor going in." The issue, therefore, is clear.

I understand the position of the Democratic candidate and he understands me, as his own words, just now uttered, plainly show, notwithstanding the recent pretense that my position was not been made clear. The simple words, it is, that he favors going into the Paris league and I favor staying out.

SEE VICTORY FOR WAGON LOADERS IN NEW DECISION

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 8.—The Public Service Commission has rescinded its order of March 20, 1917, which directed the Pennsylvania Railroad to furnish open top cars to wagon loading bituminous coal operators and ordered the railroad company to adopt rules in accordance with the order for distribution of coal cars approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Commission's action followed hearings on the temporary rescinding order, which was vigorously protested by the wagon loaders associations from all bituminous sections. The Pennsylvania railroad in asking for revocation of the old order alleged that furnishing of coal cars to wagon loaders on private or public sidings was an economic waste of motive power, tied up traffic and prevented maximum coal distribution. They asked that they be compelled to furnish cars only to tipple loading operators.

Wagon Loaders Protest. The wagon loaders protested that many of them could load cars within 24 hours and as advantageously and had larger outputs than some mines equipped with tipples.

The wagon loaders asked that the commission compel the coal carriers in Pennsylvania to carry out the rule of the I. C. C. which they claimed forced open top cars to all operators who could load within 24 hours. Railroad officials said they had not so interpreted the I. C. C. order which was issued September 16.

Gives P. R. S. Full Sway. In the order the Commission stated: "We are decidedly of the opinion that the practice of loading coal in top cars where the shippers have no tipple or other loading device is a wasteful use of the equipment and results in delays which should not be permitted under existing circumstances. Anything which delays the movement of coal cars and thereby reduces the production and distribution of coal should be discontinued in the interest of the public as a whole and we feel entirely justified in saying that the regulation of carriers which in ordinary times might amount to a unjust discrimination when their purpose and results is to promote the public welfare by using the equipment of carriers in the most efficient manner possible."

The order leaves the interpretation of the I. C. C. order solely in the hands of the railroad company.

I do not want anyone to be misled. I will have no name, vote upon a misunderstanding, and I am equally determined, if I can prevent it, that my opponent shall have no man's vote upon a misunderstanding.

My position, I think, has been made perfectly plain, but whether it has or not, my position is beyond cavil, and it is that we shall go into the Paris league without reservation or any other condition.

RED AND BLACK IS FULLY PREPARED FOR HUNTINGDON

By DICK LEIPER. Yesterday afternoon Coach Leisey put the C. H. S. sq. thru their final scrimmage prior to their departure for Huntingdon where they will go with grim determination to do honor to the Red and Black by wresting the "bacon" from the boys of the reformatory town.

The squad was put thru the most grueling workout of the season. A tho the varsity carried the ball across the scrubs' goal line several times they had to fight hard as the second team put up real football; forcing the varsity to punt and several occasions breaking thru the varsity and downing the regulars for a loss. The scrubs again made a well earned touchdown, advancing the ball by a variety of plays, pulling passes, and runs in a manner that would reflect credit on the average high school team, and finally putting the ball across on a line buck.

Both the varsity and scrubs used the forward pass in all its variations and now that end of the game is well groomed; the players being equally as adept in breaking up passes, and as Huntingdon is reported to play a passing game, C. H. S. will be well prepared for their "aerial" attacks.

The Marblers will do their best to stop the Red and Black eleven as they are eager to make up for the defeats that C. H. S. has inflicted on them in the past, and also Clearfield's team is a veteran aggregation, Huntingdon will endeavor to overcome this obstacle by "uncorking" some new trick plays, but as C. H. S. has been drilled to combat such tactics, our team should analyze opponents' form of attack in der.

The varsity was given a signal practice and a talk by Coach Leisey and will leave tomorrow morning on the P. R. R. at 8:15 for Huntingdon, confident and determined that when the "smoke clears" C. H. S. will have another clean cut victory to their credit.

WHY MASS MEETING IS CALLED TONIGHT FULLY EXPLAINED

"Mass. 1. A quantity of matter cohering in one body, usually of considerable size. 2. A large quantity amount or number; a bulk. 3. Bulky, size. 4. The main body; as, the mass of men. Mass emphasizes the idea of solidity and coherence."

So wrote Mr. Webster in his best seller. Unconsciously, but accurately, he was describing the nature of the meeting to be held in the High School Auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight to mark the formal opening of the campaign for a $200,000 maintenance, endowment, and building fund for the new Clearfield General Hospital. It's to be a mass meeting.

"We're calling it a mass meeting," said one of the campaigners this afternoon, "because we feel sure that all Clearfield will indicate, by its attendance at the meeting tonight, that it is wholly and coherently back of only wide campaign to provide and extend the entire re- with the hospital service. Certainly with the immediate vicinity must pool if we expect the good people around the country to do so. We want everybody and his brother to turn out tonight. It's going to be a rousing meeting. Tell the people to come."

FARM AGENT TALKS ON WOOL SITUATION

There has been practically no situation of the last six months. On Sept. 1 the American Woolen Co. who have followed closely lookable for a long time.

A large amount of wool clip has been consigned either to Philadelphia or Boston and still lays in the warehouse unsold. The fleece wool states are holding for a more staple market. There is a feeling in the trade, however, that as soon as the spring orders are placed it will show the full men a more definite demand for wool.

The demand for and the scarcity of fine wool will have a tendency to make them more attractive in the eyes of the trade than the coarser wools. So far as saying what wools are worth today there seems to be no basis for value. Very few wools are being moved and what little is bought is the local men is only the price on a speculative basis, because nobody seems to know what the price should be.

A soon as there is any change in the market, in other words, as soon as we have a definite basis for value, you will hear from us again. W. C. STERRETT, County Farm Agent.

So far as the league is concerned Cox favors going in while Harding has positively stated he favors staying out. Cox is not consistent on this in and out business. When it comes to being damp Mr. Cox favors staying out in the "wet."

THE STATUS OF THE WAGON LOADER

The multiplying orders of the P. S. C. and the I. C. C. on wagon coal loading are about as clear to the average operator as the league of nations is to the ordinary individual and we belong in the latter class. However, the legal lights tell us that the wagon loaders have won a victory; that they will be accorded the privilege of loading open top cars provided they meet with whatever reasonable regulations are prescribed by the railroad company. It now appears that the railroad companies must deliver to wagon loading mines their pro rata share of cars with the tippie mines and that about the only reasonable restriction will be the rule as to twenty-four hour loading.

NOW, LET US GO!

A $? ? ? gift to the Hospital Campaign is some start and if, after this wonderful testimonial to the hospital by one of the citizens of the county, the rest of us fail to fall in line with our mite, then there is something wrong with us as a community.

But we fear no such result. The immense gift is evidence to us that the hospital campaign arguments are striking deep in the hearts of our citizens. It is the first fruit of the four weeks preparation and the size of it is a good indication of what the whole crop will be. There will be other gifts of large figures, some even larger, but no man or woman in the county should be content to let the campaign go by without contributing their share. Let us all have a part in this, the greatest peace time undertaking of the people of the county.

Now, let us go!—to the mass meeting tonight.

CHANCES

Uncle Sam has 2,973,774 square miles of dry land, enough to give every inhabitant 180 acres. Grant that three-quarters of it isn't first class. That would still leave forty-five acres apiece, and a good intensive tiller of soil can live comfortably on ten acres.

This isn't an appeal for a division of land, as in Russia. It is the prelude to a story.

Ten years ago a Russian immigrant landed in Northwestern Nebraska without a cent. He worked for wages until he had saved $120. Then he leased a farm and started raising pigs. The town banker today rates him as worth $150,000—all of it fairly earned.

The West is full of such instances. The South soon will be. Ours is still the land of opportunity for those willing and able to work, think, save and dare.

Concerning Investments

America has become a nation of investors, and we make the following suggestion to those who may be contemplating making an investment in stocks or bonds.

Be sure that values of the securities you have in mind have tangible intrinsic worth, convertible into cash if needs be. Good management and "good will" are much to be desired, but always remember that they are personal equations which can crumble overnight in incompetent hands.

Our services are at your command in the selection of your investments.

Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago and never contained alcohol.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

At this time of the year some people feel "all out of sorts"—their vitality is at a low ebb—the blood becomes surcharged with poisons! The best blood medicine and tonic is called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts your vigor, vitality into the blood. Try it. This is what folks say about it:

HARRISBURG, PA.—"I used to suffer with bilious attacks, my liver being inactive. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it rid me of these spells and I have never had any return of them. 'Golden Medical Discovery' is an excellent liver medicine; it is also good as a tonic to build up the system. And Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative or cathartic I have taken; they act on the liver and drive out all poisonous conditions of the system, and are very mild."—Mrs. J. H. What Shall We Do With Our Apples?

National Crop Improvement Service.
IT'S a perfect shame to see the beautiful apple crop of the United States being at least one-half wasted.

The distribution of perishables is our greatest agricultural problem. Millions of hungry people would be glad to buy the surplus of fruits and vegetables if some plan could be devised to bring it to market at prices which they could afford to pay.

We cannot even make our windfalls into cider according to the rulings of the federal authorities, unless we obligate ourselves to wait until the cider has turned to vinegar. Cider has the power, and exercises it, of generating more alcohol than the law allows. A farmer can sell sweet cider containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol but unless he drugs it, his cider will not behave. The farmer don't like it either.

There are enough apples lying on the ground in Michigan or in Indiana, New York or any other state, to supply the world with vinegar for a hundred years and vinegar would be so cheap that it would not pay to buy containers.

In some localities where barrels and baskets are high and fruit is plentiful, local jam factories are being established, but even this will not prove to be the way out because for the greater portion of the year there will be no apples or other fruit and the plant will have to lie idle.

Apples in the cities are selling as high as five to seven dollars per bushel and yet there will be thousands of apple trees bearing beautiful fruit which will never be picked.

This is a problem for all farm bureaus.

What shall we do to prevent this waste in perishables?

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY

HARRY H. ROSENTHAL, O. D.,
WOOLLEDGE BUILDING, CLEAR-
FIELD, PA.

LESSON THREE

Of what does an Optometrist's services consist?

Determining the nature and extent of the optical defects that a patient suffers from, as before explained.

Anything else?

Yes, it is also an Optician, he prepares the lenses and sees that they are properly adjusted to the features of the patient.

Are most Optometrists also Opticians?

Yes, practically all of them.

What are some of the commonest defects of vision?

Far and near sight and astigmatism are three that are frequently met with.

Do these defects cause much annoyance to those who have them?

The results of errors of vision vary with different people.

Then astigmatic folks for instance, do not all suffer to the same extent?

No, the degree of the error and the health and temperament of the patient are factors in this respect.

Further explanation in our next lesson.

Keeping Faith

THE cars are coming! From now on travelers will notice a gradual transformation in the long trains which recently have been breaking all tonnage records. They will see an ever-increasing number of bright spots—here and there snow-white refrigerators, glossy-black hopper and gondola coal cars, and glistening-red all-steel box cars.

Already the first section of the new equipment ordered by the New York Central Lines immediately following the termination of Federal control has been received from the shops and has gone into the Nation's transportation service. The balance will be delivered continuously and in increasing volume.

These cars come with the advent of the busiest of fall and winter seasons, at a time when they are needed as never before.

WHEN the Government turned the railroads back to their owners, experts computed that approximately $500,000,000 worth of new equipment was the imperative need of the hour. The New York Central Lines immediately placed their $53,000,000 equipment order, covering 196 locomotives, 265 passenger cars and 11,244 freight cars.

These freight cars, if coupled together, would make a solid train ninety miles long. But measured by the total number of efficient cars added to active service, the repair program of the New York Central Lines this year amounts to several times the new construction.

Crippled freight cars to the number of 59,196 were rebuilt and rendered 100 percent. serviceable up to September 1st. During the same period, "medium" repairs were made to 41,222 additional damaged freight cars.

LAST March assurances were given the shippers and the public generally that no time would be lost in meeting the needs of the service, in rehabilitating existing equipment and purchasing new rolling stock.

tie of Tanlac and have actually gained twenty-three pounds," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. Clara Lehman, residing at the Bristol Hotel, Rochester N. Y., a few days ago.

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good Tanlac has done me," she continued. "I had been in very poor health for a bout ten years and in spite of all I could do I kept getting weaker until three years ago I suffered a complete nervous breakdown."

"I could hardly sleep at night, woke up at all hours, with a horrible nightmare—and scarcely had a minute's ease or comfort at any time. I had no appetite and have passed many a day without eating or drinking anything except now and then a cup of coffee, and I became so weak I would sometimes tremble like a leaf. I suffered terribly from heartburn and there was an empty, faint feeling in the pit of my stomach."

"Last September I was taken with bronchial pneumonia and after spending four weeks in a hospital I came home so weak I could hardly stand up and with my old trouble worse than

"Three years ago I weighed one hundred and thirty-nine pounds and I fell off until I weighed only eighty-five pounds. Since taking Tanlac I now balance the scales at one hundred and eight pounds and am still gaining weight and strength every day. The bronchial pneumonia left me with an awful cough, which was so violent at times as to almost prostrate me."

"One day I was visiting a friend who advised me to try Tanlac. Acting on her advice, I began taking Tanlac and I commenced to feel better so quickly that it surprised me. My appetite is just fine now and that burning sensation and faint feeling has left me. In fact, all my stomach distress is gone, my nerves have been wonderfully improved and I don't have that tired, worn out feeling any more. I have been strengthened and built up until I am feeling better than I have in years."

A WOMAN'S SOUL BARED

Mrs. Asquith, Wife of Former British Premier, Tells Tales Out of School

When William Watson, the famed poet wrote "The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue," it was Margot Tennant Asquith he wrote about. As wife of the then Prime Minister of Great Britain, Mrs. Asquith acquired a knowledge of men and things that was denied to other women. Her "petticoat government" forced a crisis in the British navy, and she was the "power-behind-the-throne" in many other instances.

Now Mrs. Asquith has arrived at the conclusion that she is and has been a much-misunderstood woman. Happily, during her entire public career (and it was a public career) she kept a diary. Recently she concluded to give the contents of that diary to the public. England already has read what she had to say. Pittsburgh is to be next. The Pittsburgh Dispatch has arranged for the entire diary and beginning next Sunday, October 10, there will appear for 14 consecutive weeks a liberal installment of all the things Mrs. Asquith wrote.

Contained in this diary are matters of state, love, intrigue and common politics. The writer, whose pen might best be described as "vitrified" spares no one. She knew well Gladstone, Edward VII, Roseberry, Balfour, Randolph, Churchill, Kitchener, Lord Roberts and a host of other world famous figures. And she knows whereof she writes.

No matter whether you are of British origin or not, you will be interested. This being the case it is best to "play safe" and order your copy of next Sunday's Dispatch in advance. (Adv.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 10

BAPTISM AND TEMPTATION OF JESUS.

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 3:1-17. GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.—Matt. 3:17. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 3:1-17, Heb. 2:18, 4:15. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Pleasing the Heavenly Father. JUNIOR TOPIC—Baptism and Temptation of Jesus. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Overcoming Temptation. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Victory Over Appetite, Pride and Ambition.

I. The Baptism of Jesus (3:13-17). While the forerunner was discharging his office, the King emerged from his seclusion at Nazareth and demanded baptism at John's hands. The incongruity of this with the purpose of baptism brought from John a protest, but Jesus' explanation was satisfactory, so John baptized him. Touching Christ's baptism, note:

1. Its significance. (1) Negatively. It did not mean his own obedience to the commandment of God, because his entire life had been lived entirely within the will of God. Not a moment in his entire life but what was lived entirely in accordance with the Father's will. (2) Not because he had sin, for he was absolutely sinless, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners. This separation was so complete that even the devil could find no occasion against him (John 14:30).
- (2) Positively. Its significance is found in harmony with the central purpose of his coming into the world, which was to secure for his people salvation through death, burial and resurrection.

2. Approval from the opened heavens (vv. 16, 17). Immediately following his consecration to his work, the heavens were opened and the Spirit came and abode upon him, followed by words of approval from the Father. These all were essential for the work upon which Christ now entered—revelation (heavens opened), inspiration (dove abode upon him), and approval (words from the Father).

II. The Temptation of Jesus (4:1-11). This temptation was the opening battle of the dreadful conflict between Christ and Satan. In this struggle, note:

1. The combatants. (1) Jesus Christ, the Divine Man, now entering upon his mediatorial work. He went immediately from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet the arch-enemy of the race. (2) The devil. He was a real person filled with cunning and malice.
2. The battle ground—the Wilderness of Judea. The first man was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings and failed, the second man was tempted in a bare wilderness and gloriously triumphed.
3. The method of attack. Since as our Redeemer Christ sustains a three-fold relationship, Son of Man, Son of God and as Messiah, each one was made a ground of attack. (1) As Son of Man. This was a test of the reality of his humanity which he obtained through the Virgin birth was real. The appeal was made to the instinct of hunger. Hunger is natural and sinless. Having been forty days and nights without food, as a normal man, Christ had a craving appetite. While the appetite was not sinful, to have satisfied it in a wrong way would have been sin. (2) Son of God. It was to test as to whether this personality which had taken upon itself humanity, was divine. The devil quoted from a Messianic Psalm to get him to presume upon God's care. God does care for his own, but to neglect common precaution—to do the untried for thing just to put God's promise to a test is to sin and fail. (3) As Messiah. Christ's mission as Messiah was to recover this world from the devil. Now the devil offers to surrender to him on the simple condition that he adopt his method, thus obviating the necessity of the cross. The kingdoms were really Christ's, and he knew that they would ultimately become his. The inducement was to get immediate possession without the sufferings of the cross.
4. The defense—the Word of God. Christ met the enemy each time and repulsed him with "It is written." Each time he quoted from Deuteronomy, the book which the higher critics would discredit as reliable.
5. The issue—the enemy is completely routed.

Guided by Religion.

A nation that is guided by its religion, that is firm in its ancient faith, that looks beyond material excitements, may well hope to survive. Mockery of religion, skepticism of faith and scorn of beliefs in what could not be proved have brought more than one nation to destruction.—Newark Evening News.

Good nature is one of the richest fruits of true Christianity.—H. W. Beecher.

Where Work is a Party.

The flax combers of Portugal are a happy people. It is the custom on the Iberian peninsula to make the work a gala function. Garbed in their best, adorned with bright gold ornaments, their garments an array of color with gay embroidery, men and women meet to carry on the ordinary daily vocations. In Portugal, that of winding flax is usually given over to the women.—Popular Science Monthly.

Porcelain Ware.

There is nothing so effective as gaso-line to clean porcelain tubs and wash basins. A dry rag dipped in gasoline, then rubbed on the surface, will remove practically any discoloration or stain. Marks which will not come off, though scrubbed with cleaning powders and soaps, vanish like magic at the touch of gasoline.

Pagoda a Place of Worship.

A pagoda is a Hindu place of worship, containing an idol. It consists of three portions—an apartment surmounted by a dome, resting on columns, and accessible to all; a chamber into which only Brahmans are allowed to enter, and, lastly, a cell containing the statue of the deity, closed by massive gates. The most remarkable pagodas are those of Benares, Simla, Pagan and particularly that of Jagernaut in Orissa.
